

EAT Poems #5
NYLON SOUL

Richard Peabody is a French toast addict and native Washingtonian. His latest books are Speed Enforced by Aircraft (Broadkill River Press) and Blue Suburban Skies (Mint Hill Books). He won the Beyond the Margins "Above & Beyond Award" for 2013. He has edited Gargoyle Magazine since back before Elvis died.

"Bacon-wrapped free range poetry"

Listen for free at the EAT website: <http://www.eatwords.net/>

Soon to be available via iTunes, Amazon Mp3, Google Play, Spotify, and most other digital music distributors.

EAT Poems is a series of audio chapbooks focusing on, but not strictly limited to, Northeast Florida Poets.

WWW.EATWORDS.NET

Anyone interested in EAT should contact Mark Ari in the English Department at the University of North Florida: mari@unf.edu.